Terrible Collision on an English Railway.

Ten Persons Killed, Some Instantly, While Others are Burned to Death —Thirty Injured.

London, Nov. 3.—A terrible railway accident, accompanied by a number of deaths, occurred early this morning near Thiersk, in Yorkshire. The east coast express train for London left Edinburg at 10:10 o'clock last night. The express train, being unusually heavy, was divided in two sections. The first section proceeded safely to London, arriving at the usual hour. The second section had over one hundreh passengers on board, including several noblemen and other distinguished people. The train, which consisted of coaches from Dundee, Perth, Abroath and Aberdeen, swept safely through southern Scotland and the extreme north of England. A thick fog prevailed and it was difficult for the driver to see the signals. Approaching Thiersk the fog was thicker than ever and at a point about two and a half miles north of that town the signals were entirely obsured and the express train collided at full speed with a goods train on a siding at Manor House. The wreck of the express train was complete. The engine came full tilt against the goods train and toppled over, smashed and dismantled, with the carriages after it into a field next to the track. The carriages were broken and jammed together and most of the passengers were caught in their compartments as in so many traps. The wreck took fire almost instantly from escaping gas and the smoke and flame and the shrieks of the dying and wounded made a horrible scene. Those who managed to extricate themselves uninjured hastened to assist others who were yet alive and caught in the wreck. It was difficult work, owing to the way in which the carriages were crushed together, and the trouble in opening compartment doors that were fastened after the usual British fashion. Men and women could be heard shrieking for assistance, and one man who was slowly being burned to death, and who could not get out, begged the rescuers in heaven's name to kill him. It is known that no less than ten are dead, and that thirty are injured, twelve of them seriously. The fireman of the train was killed, but the engineer, who jumped at the instant of the collision, escaped with a broken leg. The Marquis of Tweedale and the Marquis of Huntley, the latter a lord in waiting to Queen Victoria, were on board the train. The Marquis of Tweedale escaped uninjured and, although an elderly gentleman, he did active service in assisting to rescue others. The Marquis of Huntley was bruised and had a thumb broken, but received no other injury. Captain Duncan McLeod, of the forty-second Highlanders, is among the killed. Trains have been sent to the scene to clear away the wreck and carry away the injured and dead. The mail for the north has been delayed four hours on account of the wreck.

ANOTHER RAIL DISASTER.

London, Nov. 2.—Another railway accident is reported, this time at Liverpool. Last night a train on the Mersey railway, loaded with passengers, many of whom had been on the Birkenhead ferry boat when it collided with the ship Euridaice, was leaving the ferry station, when it ran into an engine and was badly damaged. The passengers were killed and about fifty injured and some of the injured will probably die. When passage on another train was offered to the passengers who were not hurt, many of them having been in the ferry boat collision and the railway accident on the same night, thought it would be unlucky to continue their journey just then and refused to do so.

FLOATS SUNK.

The Pennsylvania Company Loses Two of Them.

New York, Nov. 2.—Two of the Pennsylvania Railroad company's floats, carrying twenty-four cars of merchandise and towed by the tug boat Pittsburg, were run down opposite Pier Four this morning by the North German Lloyd steamer Kaiser Wilhelm II. The floats and cars were sunk. The loss could not be ascertained.

STILL THEY COME.

Another Prominent Republican Kicks Out of the Traces.

Boston, Nov. 2.—Col. E. O. Sheppard, a well known member of the bar of this city and who was judge advocate general on the staffs of the republican governors, Ames and Brackett, writes to the Boston Herald, reviewing the tariff, state bank tax and force bill issues, and saying that he shall vote for Cleveland and Russell.

GOOD-BYE GARFIELD.

A Death Blow to Race Tracks in Chicago.

Chicago, Nov. 2.—Judge Collins yesterday denied the petition of the Garfield park club, for an injunction restraining the Chicago police from interfering with the west side track. That, it is said, is the final blow to the track. The decision apparently will be fatal to the Hawthorne track as well as the Garfield. The Illinois law of 1887, providing that pool-selling is legal within the regular race track inclosures was emphatically declared unconstitutional. If sustained by the supreme court, Judge Collins' decision seems to mean the closing of every race track in Illinois. The Garfield park people, however, have a new track well under way just across the state line in Indiana.

MERELY GUESS WORK.

Rumors That the Lake Front Case is Decided.

No Decision Yet Reported From the Supreme Court—The Illinois Central Becoming Anxious.

Washington, Nov. 2.—Rumors published in regard to the supreme court having arrived at a conclusion in the Chicago Lake Front cases in favor of the Illinois Central railroad company can be traced to no authentic source and are believed to be entirely sensational guess work. Each justice of the supreme court carries a locked book in which he makes his own entries of the cases under argument and his own memoranda of his views of the law in the matter. Every Saturday the judges meet in their consultation room and compare their notes of the cases under advisement. If it is found that on all important questions involved there is a substantial agreement of a majority of the court, one of the justices is assigned to the duty of preparing an opinion. In all important cases this opinion is read to the full bench on a subsequent consultation day, and is then announced on the following Monday. No deviation is made from this method of procedure. Inquiry of court officials fails to establish the fact that even the preliminary consultations have not yet been held on the Chicago lake front case. Mrs. Harrison's death and funeral necessarily caused some disarrangement of the business of the court. The immediate decision of this important matter is further rendered difficult by the fact that two of the justices, Fuller and Blatchford, have asked to be excused from its consideration, the chief justice having been one of the counsel in the case and Justice Blatchford being a holder of Illinois Central stocks.

EXPERT FORGER.

Charles A. Howes Arrested in New York—Confession of His Crimes All Over the Country.

New York, Nov. 2.—Charles A. Howes, an expert forger, who has traveled from one end of the country to the other and proudly boasts that he had swindled banks and merchants in every state of the union, was arrested yesterday afternoon and is locked up at police headquarters. Howes has made a full confession of his crimes. He said he began life as a real estate agent in Gray's Harbor, Washington. His first forgery was on the Denver Lithographic company to pay for 1,000 blank drafts on the bank of Elmer. With these he traveled, passing them everywhere, until they gave out, when he secured a new supply from the Union Bank Note company, of Kansas City, these on the First National bank of Park City, Utah. He has swindled banks all over the country. He said he was on his way to Nicaraugua when arrested. His wife is in Yonkers, N. Y., and does not know he is a criminal.

TACKLED THE WRONG MAN.

Wash James, a Kentucky Farmer, Killed by his Nephew.

Grayson, Ky., Nov. 2.—Wash James was killed by his nephew, Champ Biggs, at Pleasant Valley, yesterday morning. There has been bad blood between these parties for some time. This feeling grew out of the death of James' brother Henry, who was killed one year ago by Rich Kiser. James came to town early yesterday morning and while here became intoxicated and then started home, and while passing the Biggs house, saw Champ at work upon the barn. He called upon him to come down, which he did. James then assaulted him and Biggs defended himself with a hatchet. In a few moments James was literally cut to pieces, his bowels protruding from a ghastly wound in his stomach. He fell to the ground unconscious and was taken to his home by some neighbors, where he shortly afterward died. James was fifty-five years of age and a prosperous farmer. Biggs is twenty years old and a son of James' sister.

HARRISON'S CARD.

He Makes a General Reply to the Messages of Condolence.

Washington, Nov. 2.—The president this morning made public the following card in response to the innumerable letters and telegrams of condolence and sympathy received by him during the past few weeks: "The expressions of sympathy with me and with my family in our great sorrow, from individuals, from societies, from churches, conventions, from public meetings, from political clubs, and from public men of all parties, and indeed from all our people, have been so tender and so full of respect and love for Mrs. Harrison that I reluctantly abandon the purpose of making a personal acknowledgement of each. We are grateful, very grateful, for this great cup of good will and for your prayerful intercessions. May God give to each of you in every trial that grace and strength which you have asked for us."

Soup and Croton Oil.

Phillipsburg, Ohio, Nov. 2.—At a meeting of Dunkards here yesterday two hundred of those present were made seriously ill by eating soup into which croton oil had been maliciously poured.

The Y. M. C. A. foot ball team is endeavoring to get up a game for November 8. Much telegraphing is being done, but up to date no one has responded.

GENERAL STRIKE

Inaugurated in New Orleans by Trades Unions.

Sixty-Seven Different Organizations and 30,000 Men in the Movement —Business Paralyzed.

New Orleans, Nov. 2.—A general strike was ordered by all the trades union organizations of this city at 12:30 o'clock this morning, taking effect today. A meeting of all the parties concerned is now being held in the board of trade and the affair may be settled. Every business man in the city is directly interested in the movement which is now on. The strike is the result of the merchants' refusal to recognize the labor organizations. The Amalgamated council, composed of sixty-seven bodies of the American Federation of Labor, decided to order out every organization in the city. In the strike the local typographical union has taken part and notice has been served on the various newspapers in the city that the men would walk out after their work this morning. The levees, steamboat landings and railroad depots are crowded with freight and should a general strike take place it will absolutely paralyze the city's commerce and throw out of employment between twenty-five and thirty thousand men.

BIG BOODLE.

The Protected Manufacturers Have Given $1,000,000 to the Republicans.

New York, Nov. 4.—The World this morning says that the boodle collected from the protected manufacturers of Pennsylvania has reached the sum of $1,000,000. Henry C. Frick, the paper says, recently paid $250,000 and rounded out the million, which is now at the disposal of Matt Quay and Chairman Tom Carter. The World also says that the sugar trust will contribute $100,000 as part payment for free raw sugar and a tax on the refined article.

WENT DOWN.

A Special Agent of the World's Fair Loses His Life in the Deep.

Chicago, Nov. 2.—Chief Walker Fern, of the foreign affairs department, has just been informed of the tragic end of W. E. Giles and family, who perished off the coast of Loma Loma, in the western Pacific islands, on September 12. Mr. Giles was a special agent for the exposition, sent to Polynesia by Leigh Lynch, to bring certain exhibits for the fair. With a crew of three sailors, Mr. Giles and his family started from Loma Loma in a small boat to catch the steamer Maoria, homeward bound, at Mango. A sharp squall came up and the boat went down with the crew and passengers. Some oars picked up along the coast furnished the only evidence of the unfortunate journey.

STEAMERS WRECKED

And the Crews Probably Lost—Shipping Demoralized.

Chicago, Nov. 2.—The great gale of last Friday and Saturday wrecked a large steamer and a schooner near the south Manitou Island at the foot of Lake Michigan, and it is almost certain that the crews of both boats were lost. The steamer foundered near the island, while the schooner was cast almost bottom side up far upon the beach. The name of either boat can not yet be learned as the gale, followed closely by another, this time from the east, has demoralized shipping and it is too soon as yet to determine what boats are missing. The wrecks are reported by Captain Dennis, of the schooner John Shaw, which reached Chicago yesterday afternoon.

STOPPED THE FIGHT.

The Police at Indianapolis Interfere After Five Rounds.

Indianapolis, Ind., Nov. 2.—There was an exciting prize fight in Mozart hall, this city, last night between Joe Foppiano, an Italian fighter of note, and Chris Wrade, a local pugilist. The men weighed in at 150 pounds. Foppiano received the most puhishment and when the police stopped the battle in the fifth round Wrade was clearly the prospective winner. About five hundred sports witnessed the match. Gus Hill, the champion club swinger and variety performer, acted as referee and declared the fight a draw. About $3,000 was up on the result.

Shot by a Negro.

Indianapolis, Nov. 2.—B. F. Meyers, merchant policeman on College avenue, in the northeastern section of the city, shortly before 1 o'clock this morning met two colored men. Each was carrying a basket and both acted like thieves. While searching the basket of one the other negro shot him through the head, the ball entering near the left ear and ranging downward. The wound is supposed to be mortal. The negroes escaped.

Miss Willard Re-elected.

Denver, Col., Nov. 2.—The W. C. T. U. convention yesterday proceeded to the election of officers. The vote for president resulted in 333 votes for Frances E. Willard, who was taken to the platform amid the greatest enthusiasm and the waving of handkerchiefs. Mrs. Buell was elected corresponding secretary, Miss Pugh treasurer and Miss Woodbridge recording secretary.

Snow in South Dakota.

Sioux Falls, S. D., Nov. 2.—A light snow storm prevailed in certain valleys of the state yesterday. In this city the storm was converted into a drizzling rain. In no case was the fall to exceed half an inch. In Watson the report gives the fall as being sufficient to cover the ground. Luverne, Rock Rapids, Madison, Parker and a few other points report falls. The weather is mild and snow melting rapidly.

GIVEN UP.

The Owner of the Steamer Gilcher Abandons Hope,

And Says the Ship Has Undoubtedly Gone Down With Her Crew of Eighteen.

Cleveland, Ohio, Nov. 2.—J. C. Gilchrist, one of the principal owners of the steamer W. P. Gilcher, which is supposed to have gone down in Lake Michigan, has given the boat up as lost. He said shortly before noon today: "I am now convinced that the reason we have not heard from the Gilcher is because there is none of the crew alive to tell the tale. There were eighteen men aboard, with Capt. L. P. Weeks, of Vermillion, in command. His first mate was Capt. Ed. Porter, of Loraine. Sydney Jones, of Marine City, Mich., was chief engineer. There was a wheelman named King, who formerly lived in Vermillion, but has lately made his home in Chicago. The only sailor known by me was a young man named Thompson, who hailed from Vermillion. Formerly nearly the entire crew were from Vermillion, but about a month ago Captain Weeks, while in Buffalo, discharged most of his old men and shipped new sailors, whose names have never been reported to the general office." The Gilcher was an iron boat, built by the Cleveland Ship Building company and put into service a year ago last May. She was valued at $200,000 and was insured for $180,000. She had a cargo of 3,030 tons of coal and was bound from Buffalo to Milwaukee. She was last heard from when she passed Mackinaw Friday. It is the general supposition here that she must have struck upon the South Fox reef during the storm of Friday night and had a hole knocked in her bottom. The builders of the Gilcher claim that the wreckage now being washed ashore does not tally with any part of the work on this boat. Her owners are convinced, however, that she has gone down with all on board. She carried a large metallic life boat and enough small boats to carry about thirty men. As far as is known here there were no passengers on the Gilcher when she left Buffalo.

ELECTION TROUBLES

In Alabama Denied by Solicitor General Aldrich.

No Official Report of Trouble Has Yet Been Received by Attorney General Miller.

Washington, Nov. 2.—Solicitor General Aldrich, in the absence of Attorney General Miller, acting attorney general, said to a United Press representative this morning that all he knew about the election troubles in the state of Alabama was what he learned from the newspapers; that he had received no complaints from the United States officers in Alabama and, of course, in the absence of such, could not take cognizance of reports of contemplated alleged violations of law. If any complaint were made they would receive prompt consideration. Mr. Aldrich was inclined to treat the matter rather lightly and thought the situation of affairs was not so serious as indicated. He said the circular issued by Attorney General Miller yesterday would be upheld by all the authority of the federal government, and he particularly emphasized the closing paragraph of the circular, which reads as follows: "The duty and the authority of the supervisors and deputy marshals in the premises are too plain to be misunderstood. Bearing in mind always that they are officers of the peace, as well as officers of the election, and never forgetting that where the state statute conflicts with the statute of the United States touching these elections, the national statute is paramount and must be obeyed. These officers should go forward quietly, but resolutely, in the discharge of their duties, without fear or favor, but with the firm determination, so far as in them lies under the law, to see that there is an honest, free and fair election and a fair return and canvass of the votes."

EXTORTING FUNDS.

A Republican Arraigned for the Illegal Proceeding.

Washington, Nov. 2.—The civil service commission has reported to the attorney general for criminal prosecution, under the law against soliciting political contributions, the case of Samuel Thomas, treasurer of the republican state committee of New York, who is accused of sending circulars of solicitation to clerks in the government service here. Three specific offenses are charged and the document in each case accompany the report. The circulars name no particular sum, but request such a contribution to the legitimate and necessary expenses of the campaign as the recipient may choose to give.

Murdered His Daughter.

Columbia, S. C., Nov. 2.—Dorsey Goodin, of Timminsville, deliberately beat his seven-year-old daughter to death Saturday. He whipped the child with a large leather strap, having an iron buckle on the end, for twenty minutes and then picking the little girl up, hurled her to the floor. She died shortly afterward. Goodin is in jail and threats of lynching are heard.

The german to have been given last evening by C. W. Osborne, has been postponed until next Wednesday.

GRESHAM'S LETTER.

He Will Vote for Grover Cleveland.

He Emphatically Defines His Position and Settles Forever the Controversy.

Springfield, Ill., Nov. 2.—The Hon. Bluford Wilson gave the following to the press last night:

To the Public:

The truth of the statement made by myself and others that Judge Gresham said he intended to vote for Mr. Cleveland at the coming election has been persistently denied, not only by the republican press, but also by the national republican committee and upon the stump.

It is due to Judge Gresham and his friends that the truth should be known, and I therefore take the responsibility of giving to the public his letter of October 27, addressed to me:

Chicago, Ill., Oct. 27, 1892.

Hon. Bluford Wilson, Springfield, Ill.:

Dear Sir—I have your letter of the 21st inst. I did tell you at Springfield that, after mature reflection, I had determined to vote for Mr. Cleveland this fall, because I agree in the main with his views on the tariff, and did not believe in the principles embodied in the McKinley bill. I adhere to that determination, and have said nothing indicating a change of purpose. It is not true that with my knowledge or consent the president was asked to appoint me to any office; it is not true that I requested any one to say or do anything to obtain the republican nomination this year. It is not true that I voted for Mr. Cleveland in 1888. I voted the republican ticket at every presidential election since the party was organized, except in 1864, when I was not able to go to the polls. Republicans were pledged to a reduction of the war tariff long before 1888, and during the campaign of that year the pledge was renewed with emphasis again and again. Instead of keeping that promise the McKinley bill was passed, imposing still higher duties. It was passed in the interest of favored classes, and not for the benefit of the whole people. It neither enhanced the price of farm products nor benefited labor. Wages are and ever will be regulated by supply and demand. Duties were imposed upon some articles so high as to destroy competition and foster trusts and monopolies. I think you will agree with me that this was an abandonment of the doctrine of moderate, incidental protection. The tariff is now the most important question before the people, and whatever others may do, I shall exercise the right of individual judgment and vote according to my convictions. I think with you that a republican can vote for Mr. Cleveland without joining the democratic party. How I shall vote in the future will depend upon the questions at issue. Yours very truly,

W. Q. Gresham.

FOREST FIRES.

Valuable Tracts of Timber Land in Pennsylvania Wiped Out.

Uniontown, Pa., Nov. 2.—News reached here last evening that forest fires are raging along the mountain from Ohio Pyle to Delaney's Cave, a distance of twenty miles, and at more than a dozen places on the mountain range fires have broken out within three miles of this place and are spreading rapidly. The Summit, the point at which the National pike crosses the range, is entirely surrounded with fire and will soon be burned over. At this one point valuable tracts of timber land have been wiped out and the fences, stacks and outlying buildings are being destroyed. In many cases stock has perished and the range and volume of fire is now so great as to threaten the destruction of the people on the isolated farms.

WILL PROHIBIT SEALING.

The Japanese Government Will Adopt Russia's Policy.

Ottawa, Ont., Nov. 2.—The collector of customs at Victoria, B. C., has informed the government that a Japanese resident in that city has received a letter from his government to the effect that active preparations are being made by Japan to seize all schooners found taking seals in Japanese waters next year. There has been an unusual amount of poaching in those waters during the past season, owing to the exclusion of sealers from Behring Sea, and the government has been driven by public opinion to define its position on the subject.

Farmer's Family Feud.

Princeton, Ind., Nov. 2.—Abil Montgomery shot and fatally wounded his brother-in-law, Isaac Newberry, three miles west of this city, yesterday. Both are well to do farmers. There has been a bitter feeling between the two for some time. They met at Montgomery's mother's home, where the quarrel was renewed. Montgomery is in jail.

Herman Michaels, chairman of the building committee of the city council, is arranging for bids for the furnishing of the inside of the new city hall. The inside wood work of the building will be very fine and will consist of quartered oak, something after the style of the inside of the White bank.

It was reported that a watch belonging to a man named McNulty, a shoemaker, had been stolen, but it now transpires that the watch was only borrowed by his son, who forgot to mention the fact to the old gentleman.

S. S. Campbell, of Michigan, has purchased Benj. Benninghoof's 180 acre farm near Maysville. The price paid was $9,500.

ROBERT LINCOLN.

He Was Welcomed by the Republicans.

Reception at the New Aveline Last Evening—A Large Gathering at the Rink This Morning.

Today is eminently a republican day in the city of Fort Wayne. Last evening the 8:50 train on the Pennsylvania railway brought to the city the distinguished speaker of the day, Hon. Robert T. Lincoln, United States minister to England. Despite the bad weather there was a good crowd at the depot and Mr. Lincoln was escorted to the New Aveline hotel by the Soldiers' and Sons' club. Arriving at the hotel a reception was held in the parlors and several hundred citizens took advantage of the opportunity to become acquainted with our minister to England. Mr. Lincoln is a fine appearing gentleman of a strong, muscular build and a pleasing countenance. He was born August 1st, 1843. He was married to the daughter of ex-Secretary Harlan, of Iowa. He was appointed by Garfield to the position of secretary of war and upon the election of President Harrison, minister to England. He is a lawyer by profession and his home is in Chicago. The reception was a pleasant one and continued until a late hour.

The weather being more favorable this morning, the city began to assume a lively appearance and crowds began to gather about the Aveline hotel. Many went up to the parlors to meet Mr. Lincoln. In one of the hotel parlors was gathered a group of men whose venerable appearance made the causual visitor to the rooms involuntarily doff his hat. These men were the few remaining pioneers who had cast a vote for William Henry Harrison in the days of '36.

Shortly before 11 o'clock the parade formed and marched in the following order:

Marshals.
First Regiment Band.
Veterans and Sons of Veterans, 200 in number.
Speakers' carriage.
Fourteen carriages containing the "Old Guard," about forty in number.

In the carriage with Hon. Robert T. Lincoln were A. J. You, Rev. S. A. Northrop and Dr. Buchman.

The line of march was north on Calhoun to Columbia, west on Columbia to Harrison, south on Harrison to Berry, west on Berry to Fulton, north on Fulton to the rink.

Arriving at the rink, a large crowd had gathered.

Mr. Lincoln was introduced by Hon. A. J. You, who made some well chosen remarks. The speaker was greeted with great applause and began his address in an easy, conversational style, referring occasionally to notes. He reviewed the history of the country briefly under democratic and republican rule. He also gave some figures on tariff and wages and paid his respects to Judge Gresham and other well known republicans who have announced their intention of voting for Cleveland. Mr. Lincoln continued speaking until within a few minutes of 1 o'clock, and very few of the audience left the rink. At the conclusion of his remarks he was escorted to the side door to escape the crowd and was rapidly driven to the depot, where he took the train for Richmond, Ind.

INTERVIEWED.

Mr. Lincoln was interviewed during the morning by a Sentinel representative. He said.

"If there are any Grand Army men left at Richmond to give me a welcome it will be a wonder for they all seem to be up here at Fort Wayne. As to New York, it is all right for the republican party and so is Indiana. I feel gratified at the kind reception shown me by the citizens of Fort Wayne."

It was announced at the meeting this morning that ex-Governor Porter would surely be here and speak in the rink this evening with Col. Wm. Marine, of Baltimore.

LIMA CLUB ARRIVES.

At 2 o'clock this afternoon the Lima, Ohio, club arrived in the city headed by a band. There were fifty-four members in line, thirty-four in uniform. They marched to the New Aveline and serenaded republican headquarters and then dispersed until this evening, when there will be a street parade previous to the speaking at the rink. A. J. You, candidate for congress, made a few remarks from the balcony of the hotel.

PEOPLE'S PARTY PARADE.

Last evening members of the several Weaver and Field's clubs, of the city, met at Trades and Labor hall and completed arrangements for that party's demonstration Friday night, at which time speeches will be made by L. W. Rogers, Calvin Husselman and Editor Rogers. The several clubs will meet at their headquarters and march to the place of formation. Mr. Henry F. Henson was elected marshal for the torch light parade.

The following line of march was agreed upon: Form on East Wayne and Calhoun; march north to Main, west to Calhoun, north to Columbia, west to Harrison, south to Jefferson, east to Calhoun, south to Lewis, and then counter march on Calhoun street to the court house, where the speeches will be delivered. The First Regiment band will lead the procession. L. W. Rogers will arrive in the city Friday afternoon.

A Strike Averted.

New Orleans, Nov. 2.—The great strike of teamsters, loaders and warehouse men of this city, which was to have taken place today, has been declared off.

WILL NOT BE HERE.

Hon. Emil C. Rothe Misses the Train and the Meeting Tonight is Declared Off in Consequence.

Senator Sarnighausen received the following telegram this afternoon. It is a great disappointment, as Mr. Rothe has the reputation of being the best German speaker in the west:

Cincinnati, Ohio, Nov. 2.

J. D. Sarnighausen:

Missed morning train. No other train. Very sorry.

Emil Rothe.

The Jeffersonian and Hendricks clubs will therefore not turn out tonight.

DELEGATES COMING.

A Large Attendance of Christian Endeavorers

Expected at the State Convention in This City—Important Meeting Last Evening.

A very important meeting of the Christian Endeavorers, of Fort Wayne, was held at the Christian church last evening, and, not withstanding the severe rain storm, a large number were in attendance. Reports were read from the entertainment committee, which stated that many people were very slow to open their houses for delegates and another active canvass will have to be made to secure enough places to entertain delegates. Up to the time of the meeting yesterday evening places had only be secured for 533 delegates, while the names of 702 delegates have been received by the entertainment committee, and they are coming in at the rate of 100 per day. Yesterday a list of 103 was received. There will be fully 2,000 delegates in attendance at the meeting, and as Fort Wayne has invited these people, she will have to entertain them. Miss Elizabeth Wishard, state secretary, was present at the meeting, and stated that from prospects over the state this would be the largest and most enthusiastic convention ever held. From Indianapolis alone 200 delegates will attend. The program, she said, has almost fully been completed. Among the prominent speakers signifying their intention of attending are Rev. William McNeal, a brother of the great London divine; Robert E. Spear, of New York, the man who delivered one of the most important addresses at the national convention in New York; Rev. W. W. Sleeper, of Beloit, Wis., and Dr. R. G. McKaig and Dr. Hoyt, of Minneapolis. Other prominent speakers from our own state and elsewhere will be present.

The convention will meet Friday morning, Nov. 25, and the addresses of welcome on behalf of the city will be delivered by Judge R. S. Taylor and Professor M. A. Brannon, and on behalf of the clergy by Revs. S. A. Northrop and George H. Eldridge. The response will be made by prominent persons of Indianapolis and elsewhere. The program will be completed in about ten days.

The next meeting of the Fort Wayne societies will be held next Monday evening, at the Grace Reformed church. Further arrangements for the entertainment of the visitors will be discussed at this meeting and there should be a large attendance of members of the local societies.

THEY OBJECT.

Railroad Employes Object to a Certain Notice.

Editor Sentinel:

Considerable comment was caused among the democratic members of a certain railroad organizaitons of this city by the following notice, which was this morning posted up in the shops. The organization referred to is supposed to be non-partisan.

All members are requested to meet at lodge room Wednesday evening, November 2, to attend in a body at Princess rink to pay respects to Albert G. Porter.

CAPTURED AT PORTLAND

An Alleged Fort Wayne Banker in Trouble.

His Neat Swindling Scheme Interrupted and Himself Placed in Jail.

A swindle of large dimensions was attempted on Jonas Votaw, one of the wealthiest citizens of Portland, Monday, by two sharpers, and had it not been for the suspicions of the cashier of the Citizens' bank would have been successful. The swindlers took advantage of the high prices current for land in parts of Jay county, owing to the discovery of a rich oil field, and marked Mr. Votaw for a victim. They first approached Mr. Votaw last Friday, one of them representing that his name was Stanley, a banker at Fort Wayne, and that he wanted to buy a farm for his son near Pennville. Mr. Votaw referred them to several large land owners at Pennville, but exacted a promise from them to return to him if they were not suited. Monday morning they returned, looked over Mr. Votaw's farm and announced that they were ready to buy his best farm, and, as they wanted to satisfy themselves that they were trading with a responsible and wealthy man, they required of Mr. Votaw that he meet them one mile from the city with $5,000. Mr. Votaw agreed to this, and called at the Citizens' bank, requesting a loan of that amount.

Mr. Hawkins, the cashier, questioned Mr. Votaw closely, and his suspicions were at once aroused, and in order not to arouse the suspicions of the parties, requested Mr. Votaw to call in an hour, and in the meantime he would confer with W. H. Reed, the vice president, and the loan would be made. Hawkins at once notified the city marshal and sheriff, and one of the parties was safely landed in jail. The other escaped in a buggy. Near by was found two tin boxes exactly alike. When the prisoner was searched a clipping was found from the Enquirer, of Cincinnati, giving the arrest of a slick confidence man by the name of Glass-Eyed Charley Henderson. The man arrested weighs over 200 pounds, dark complexioned, and five feet ten inches tall. The officers are elated, as they believe the prisoner is wanted at a number of places.

The name Stanley, of course, is an assumed one, as there is no person of a shady character of that name residing in Fort Wayne. The general opinion is that the fellow is one of the celebrated Austin-Post gang and that he gave his residence as Fort Wayne merely to throw the officers off his track after the trick had been worked.

THE COURTS.

Not Much Business Being Transacted Today.

The near approach of the election interferes with the proceedings in the courts as much or more than in almost any line of business. Attorneys are too busy electioneering.

The jury in the case of Miller vs. Johnson, tried in the circuit court on a change of venue from Adams Township, brought in a judgment for plaintiff in the sum of $35.

In the superior court Ernst Ehle sues William and Elizabeth M. Greiser for $600 on mechanics' lien. Attorneys for plaintiff, W. and E. Leonard.

In the circuit court the following cases were filed by H. J. Smith, attorney: Thomas C. Tombaugh vs. Susan and William M. Ditzenberger, mechanic's lien, demand, $28.75; Thomas C. Tombaugh vs. Vill Roy Davis and Cordelia E. Davis, mechanic's lien, demand, $42.25.

Justice France granted Abram G. Barnett a judgment for $95 against G. A. and Catharine Benner.

Frank O'Brien and Ida M. Castle and Alfred Gebert and Nellie Heyer have been licensed to wed.

The county commissioners have filled fifteen vacancies caused by the resignation of election inspectors. The board has adjourned until Saturday.

Yesterday at Angola Charles Hill, a traveling salesman who frequently visits Fort Wayne, was arrested on the charge of bastardy preferred by a Fort Wayne girl. He promptly settled the case in 'Squire Wilkinson's court by paying to the plaintiff several hundred dollars.

1891 The Maverick National bank of Boston failed.

MR. ROBERT LINCOLN was very kindly received by our people.

ONE thing looks well for the democracy. The party is in harmonious working order all over the country.

THE fight in New York seems to have narrowed down to Brooklyn. The democrats seem very confident of success.

JUDGE GRESHAM'S letter in today's SENTINEL settles the controversy as to whether he will support Grover Cleveland or Benjamin Harrison.

HALF a million persons are said to be kept employed in the United States on Sunday in connection with the liquor traffic alone, 200,000 of whom are women.

THERE seems to be an epidemic of flopping among the republicans this year on the presidential ticket. Mr. Harrison and the McKinley bill seems to be the principal cause.

COMMISSIONER OF PENSIONS RAUM gives 25,000 as the number of names struck from the rolls by death during last year. It is expected that this number will be nearly doubled in each of the two next years.

COLONEL ZOLLINGER, during his trip to to Indianapolis, met many prominent democrats from various parts of the state, and they all gave him words of encouragement from their different localities that the state would surely go democratic by a large majority.

REPORTS received at the state health office, shows, says the Indianapolis Sun, that in several localities diphtheria is raging. The epidemic is not confined to any particular section, but is scattered. In many towns and cities it has been allowed to spread, through the carelessness of city officials and parents. Scarlet fever also has many young victims in various towns.

NEW YORK policemen are to be deprived of their clubs after November 15. Superintendent Byrnes says "the change will place the policeman on a more friendly footing with the civilian, as he should be." This is a good move and should be adopted in Fort Wayne. Many a poor drunkard in our city has been shamefully abused and knocked down by an ignorant and brutal policeman who is permitted to carry a club.

Possibilities of the Battle.

If Cleveland shall carry all the states which voted for him in 1888, with New York and Indiana added, he would receive 226 electoral votes, or three more than a majority.

If Cleveland shall carry New York and Indiana, with all the other states which voted for him in 1888, excepting West Virginia, he would receive 220 electoral votes, or three short of an election.

If Cleveland shall receive 220 electoral votes, there would be no election by the people, as it is admitted by the republicans that Weaver will carry four electors in Minnesota, three in Nevada and four in South Dakota.

This would leave Harrison with 213 votes, or ten short of an election, and the contest would be transferred to the house.

Never in any national contest of the last half century were there such strange possibilities as are presented in the great battle of 1892, but the popular drift seems to be so decidedly for Cleveland that his defeat is not within the range of probability.

CAMPAIGN ROUNDUP.

Thousands of Speeches Yet to be Heard in Indiana—Summary of the Claims.

(Indianapolis News.)

There will be a vigorous round up of the campaign in Indiana during the six days between now and election morning. The old politicians say that many elections have been won or lost during the few days preceding the day of voting, and remembering the experiences of the past each of the parties striving for votes in Indiana is doing its "level best" on the home stretch. Between now and next Tuesday morning in the neighborhood of four thousand speeches will be delivered by representatives of the four parties in Indiana. There is probably not a neighborhood in the state in which the political issues will not be discussed from the stump. The democrats claim that they have out more speakers this week than the republicans. They have made an effort to have a closing word with the voters of every locality in the state. "We will have two thousand speeches in the state this week," said Secretary Reilly today. "And we will have thirty-nine grand rallies on Saturday. We expect to wind up the campaign here in Indianapolis with the grandest rally ever held in the state. This will be our Saturday night meeting. While we are having all these meetings we are not neglecting to make arrangements to get out our vote."

The republicans do not lay claim to the distinction of having 2,000 speakers out over the state, but it is said at state headquarters that the members of the party in every section of the state are hard at work, and that the machinery was never in better condition for doing good work during the closing days of the campaign. Granville S. Wright, who has charge of the speakers for the state committee, says that the committee will have at least ten speeches in every county between now and election day. "We have had more speeches in Indiana this year than during any preceding campaign," said Mr. Wright. "There isn't a section of the state that has not been covered and the speakers have all been good ones."

The republican committee, like the democratic, is thoroughly organizing each voting precinct in the state, with a view of getting all the voters to the polls.

The prohibitionists have been saving a great deal of their powder for the last week of the campaign. "Between now and next Tuesday we will have one thousand speeches in the state," said Secretary Shiel, of the state committee. "We have been for several weeks preparing for this round up. We will have speeches in eighty-nine counties this week. We will have twelve speeches in Shelby county, fifteen in Allen, twenty in Grant, twenty in Clinton, thirty in Huntington, twenty in Cass, fifteen in DeKalb, twenty in Decatur, twenty in Elkhart, and so on through the list of counties. We have 218 volunteer speakers on the stump in the state this week. These speakers are men and women who volunteered to make a certain number of speeches and bear all the expenses connected with their meeting. Ex-Judge Sayler makes twelve speeches this week; Mr. Worth, our candidate for governor, twelve, and Eli Ritter six.

"We have a ticket in ninety of the ninety-two counties of the state, and an organization that is not equaled by either of the old parties. We have had no trouble in raising money. Our books are open all the time that the public may see where the money contributed goes. We have a roll of 2,800 persons in Indiana who contribute from one dime to a dollar every week. This contribution amounts to about six hundred dollars per month. I see no reason why we will not hold our splendid organization until the vote is cast, and it looks to me as though we ought to poll 60,000 votes in Indiana."

"I understand that the republicans intend to put into circulation that the democrats are paying for all the meetings we are having this week. As I said before, our books are open all the time, and any one can see where our money comes from and where it goes. No story that can be circulated will injure us at this juncture of the fight."

There doesn't appear to be much buoyant feeling at the headquarters of the people's party. The managers of the party were, however, rejoicing this forenoon over two telegrams just received. One was from the state chairman of North Carolina, which read:

"Reports from county chairmen show that Weaver will carry North Carolina."

It was the opinion of the Indiana managers that there was some hope of Weaver carrying the state by the aid of the republicans. "I understand that the republicans will vote with the people's party," said Charles X. Matthews, "and I would not be surprised if the democrats were defeated."

The other telegram was from W. W. Saunders, the state chairman in Texas. It read:

"Texas is safe. Only broken lines and fraudulent practices will defeat us."

It was stated by the managers of the party that they had arranged for one or more speeches in every county of the state this week. "We will crowd the agitation all along the line this week," said Mr. Matthews, "and we look for good results next week." The party has decided to ask for supervisors in about forty counties.

The Reign of Terror.

The history of man might be called the decline and fall of terror. Formerly, says Walter Besant in the London Queen, we were afraid of everything. Of the sea, because we knew not what was beyond it, or what was in it, or what it might do. It had been known to arise in resistless might and to whelm great cities; monsters had been seen in it—calamaries, krakens, sharks and whales; the sea was a very terrible thing. Then there was the forest; no one could tell what might come out of the forest; wolves there were for certain, and serpents, and very likely human enemies wanting to kill us. Then there was the thousand and one diseases, every one of which was fatal. And there was the vast unknown world beyond—filled with enemies, creatures like men, but speaking an unknown tongue and breathing hatred—devils they were, not men. When this universal terror was still unconquered, the historian began, and so we know what it was, and how it held the people so that they sought by charms and magic to escape from it, and to get a little confidence. Then they began to find out things, and gradually the terror was dispelled. They crossed the sea and found out what was on the other side; they penetrated the forest and killed the wild beasts; they learned strange languages and traveled in strange lands; they found out how to ward off disease. Finally there remains of the old terror only one or two things. Men fear, now, nothing but what they cannot control—some forms of disease; earthquakes; lightning, and death. These things can be still further reduced; we shall overcome disease; we shall, perhaps, control the lightning; we shall learn the cause of earthquakes; we shall put off death.

Fashions in Suicide.

"The mania for committing suicide is spreading to an alarming extent," remarked a Johns Hopkins professor a few days since. "I recall reading a prediction," he continued, "that between the years 1885 and 1895 such an epidemic, if you can call it that, would prevail owing to the planetary influences, and the facts seem to bear it out, whether the prediction was based on supposititious grounds or as a result of astronomical research. History tells us that at an early period in France so prevalent was the idea of self-destruction that the government issued a decree that after a certain time the body of any man or woman guilty of taking his or her life should be hanged in a public place and designated as that of a cowardly criminal. The result of the edict was that thereafter the suicidal mania became unfashionable, and deaths from this cause were few and far between. It would appear to me, reviewing the history of the past few years, that some legislation of the same sort must be enacted in America."

Must Read and Write.

A recent action of Justice Storer, of Ballston, N. Y., although it may not be in strict accord with the letter and intent of the constitution of the United States, will doubtless find hearty approval with all such as are qualified to pass upon the merits of the case.

Justice Stover, holding the circuit court, refused naturalization to aliens who cannot read and write the English language, and rejected six applicants. One of the applicants, a native of the county of Kent, England, is more than sixty years of age, and has been a resident of this country for twenty-five years. In denying the application of John Briggs for naturalization, the sixth denied at this term, Justice Stover said: "It is no use to make such applications. I will not admit to citizenship in courts at which I preside applicants who cannot read and write the English language. Every citizen should be able to read and write. An alien asking naturalization must have these qualifications before I will grant to him a certificate of citizenship. He should be able to read the constitution of the United States before he is asked or allowed to take the oath of citizenship, and I intend to adhere to this rule whether, as in this case, the applicant speaks the English language as his mother tongue or whether he is a subject of the continental nations ignorant of our language, our customs, our constitution and our laws."

DURING the last serious cholera epidemic in Paris it was estimated by the local physicians that the chance that an acclimated person living in clean quarters and observing even ordinary sanitary precautions would contract the disease was about one in one thousand. Unacclimated Americans were said to run one chance in five hundred, and an American, some years resident in Paris when the outbreak came, reports that no one with whom he was acquainted in the slightest degree, whatever his walk in life, was seized with the disease. Still, Americans left Paris in swarms. One who fled, and encountered the outbreak in Spain, saw his landlord stricken down and carried out dead of cholera in a few hours. He had persisted in eating raw fruit against repeated warnings from the physicians.

A RECENT visitor to London says that in that city long tandem bicycles, capable of seating eight or more passengers, have been introduced, and one is now being used as a rival to the tram or street cars. The owner of the vehicle occupies the front seat, collects the fares and steers, but the passengers have to provide the motive power, and if they do not move their feet freely very poor time is made on the journey. Such a means of locomotion would not prove a success here, but it is said that in London the seats are booked and paid for a week in advance.

A Rare Article.

An Ohio contemporary notes the following story to illustrate the function and workings of conscience: An old Indian had borrowed some tobacco from a white man. After he reached his wigwam he found some money wrapped up in the tobacco. He was delighted and thought of the many pounds of tobacco he could exchange it for. But during the night he was restless and could not sleep. The money troubled him; he could not persuade himself that it belonged to him. When morning dawned he arose and sought out the white man, to whom he said: "I found money in the tobacco you gave me." "Why didn't you keep it?" asked the white man. "Because," replied the Indian, "I've got two men in here (pointing to his breast). The one man say: 'Keep money; it's yours;' then the other man say: 'No, no; give it back; it is not yours.' And they talk, talk, talk all night. I'm tired of so much talk; so here's the money, and now I feel good."

Why not hand that Indian's conscience round?

ONE of the employments of electricity just now is to make "winkers," to hang from high places. They are incandescent lights, hoisted on a flagpole or run out from a window, and the current is interrupted and turned on again by clock work mechanism. A man sees the light, then he notices that it is gone. While wondering what has become of it it reappears. This is supposed to arouse his interest to such an extent that he will ask somebody what it is for, and the man who displays the light will then get an advertisement—if he has luck.

A NEW substance called torrefied pulp is being prepared from the potato. Its main use is for feeding cattle, but with boiling water it is said to form a palatable soup, and can be made into good breadstuff when mixed with wheat or rye flour. The potatoes are ground, and the pulp, after being pressed until most of the water is excluded, is sliced and dried in a furnace. The heating process is continued just long enough to give a pleasant taste to the product without converting its starch into dextrin.

OCULISTS say that the public clocks of New York are a useless boon to a large percentage of the people, and that perhaps two-thirds of those who pass the city hall are unable to distinguish the figures on the dial of the clock. It is pretty well established, however, that most persons are so familiar with the the proportions of the dial that a dial without figures and supplied with large and broad hands conspicuously painted could be read by many to whom the ordinary public clock is a blank.

Children at the Theater.

In regard to the practice of taking children to the theater, which is so common in this country, a writer in Youth's Companion makes the following weighty observations:

"People often make a pretense of going to the theater, as they do of going to the circus, 'to please the children.' Children are thoughtlessly fond of spectacles of almost any kind, and certain parents, with one thought for their offspring and two for themselves, often take their little ones to see spectacles that are in the highest degree harmful to them. One show of a theatrical description has in it a considerable exhibition of horses; and as children are fond of horses, perhaps more people go to it than to any other, 'just to take the children.' And what do the children and their very kind elders see daily in this show? A scene in which a supposed horse thief is drawn up by a rope about his neck to the limb of a tree, supposedly hanged, and then riddled with bullets from the revolvers of a large number of very hilarious cowboys. This exhibition, in which the young people who see it are taught to regard what would really be a murder as a sort of brilliant joke, is brutalizing in the extreme. It tends to encourage the spirit of levity with which violent death is regarded by far too many Americans, and perceptibly to debase any who do not regard it with abhorrence. This is not an unfair example of the spectacles which grown people sometimes go to 'for the sake of the children.' For the sake of their children they should not only leave the little ones at home, but keep away from the shows themselves.'

Illinois Silk.

Mrs. George Fowler, of Buda, will have an exhibit in the Illinois building at the world's fair that will be a surprise to many women in that state. Buda is a quiet little town in Bureau county, where, for a number of years, Mrs. Fowler has engaged in silk culture without attracting much attention. One of the members of the Illinois woman's exposition board, which started out to learn something about every industry in the state in which women are engaged, heard of Mrs. Fowler's work and went to see her. She found Mrs. Fowler busy with her silkworms, producing a grade of material that compares most favorably with the imported article. Then and there it was decided to secure this unusual exhibit for the fair. When the women all came in from their work they decided to make an appropriation of two hundred and fifty dollars from their fund to show what was being done in silk culture in Illinois.

Money in Art.

Less than twenty years ago a member of the National Academy of Design declared that he knew, positively, that there were but ten artists in New York who were making as much as five thousand dollars a year by their art. Times have changed. We hear a good deal about the craze for foreign pictures and the neglect of native painters, but, all the same, there are not a few of the natives who are making a good living, and by the sale of their pictures, too. Several are reputed to make twenty-five thousand dollars a year, and a good many live at the rate of at least ten thousand dollars without falling into debt—belonging to clubs, owning country houses and yachts, paying exorbitant rents for studios and furnishing them with splendor. Some of the best paying commissions that local painters receive are those for panels, ceilings, and other decorative work for New York houses.

THE results which have made the Peary expedition a conspicuous success are the determination of the northern limits of the great ice cap, the attainment of the highest point ever reached on the northeast coast, the collection of data which make it possible approximately to map the northern coasts, the proof that the inner ice cap is a feasible highway, the survey of Inglefield gulf, the thorough study of the northern Esquimaux, and the accumulation of large collections. In the opinion of scientists it is a magnificent record; and the explorer and his gallant comrades will be duly honored for the splendid services they have rendered to geography.

A Cure for Cholera.

There is no use of any one suffering with the cholera when Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhœa Remedy can be procured. It will give relief in a few minutes and cure in a short time. I have tried it and know.—W. H. Clinton, Helmetta, N. J. The epidemic at Helmetta was at first believed to be cholera, but subsequent investigation proved it to be a violent form of dysentery, almost as dangerous as cholera. This Remedy was used there with great success. For sale by druggists.

Simple Method of Removing Wrinkles

It is easier to remove wrinkles, than to eradicate any other defect of the face and yet we daily see many faces, otherwise beautiful, rendered prematurely old by that shrinkage of the tissue we call wrinkles. A simple, but positive, treatment is Marquard's Rose Cream, which not only disperses wrinkles speedily but also removes pimples, blotches, eruptions and lends an exquisite glow and transparency to the complexion. For sale by Meyer Bros. & Co., 9 West Columbia street.

TRIPLE WRECK.

The Keystone and No. 1, Pittsburg Trains, in Trouble.

The Former Smashes Into a Freight Train and Then No. 1 Runs Into the Wreck.

A disastrous wreck occurred on the Fort Wayne road at the Washington avenue crossing in Allegheny, Pa., about 1 o'clock this morning, when No 66, a fast freight from the east, was hit by the Keystone express from Chicago, smashing six freight cars and badly wrecking the engine of the express. In the confusion which attended this accident, no precaution was taken to flag the fast express, No. 1, bound for Chicago, and this train, running at terrific speed, crashed into the first wreck, completing a blockade of three tracks. Engineer Harry Sauerbock, of the No. 1 express, had not time to jump from his cab and was badly crushed. He was taken out a few minutes later and sent to his home in Alegheny. The fireman, whose name and residence were not learned, jumped from the cab just before the engine struck the wreck and was badly hurt by falling on a tie. The engine of No. 1 express was entirely demolished, while the contents of the broken cars were scattered around over a great deal of ground. The passengers in each of the express trains were badly frightened and many of them rushed out on the tracks in their night clothes. After about an hour's delay, other engines were secured and the tracks cleared sufficiently to allow the passengers trains to proceed on their way.

It is reported that William M. Burgard, general agent of the Chicago and Northwestern in Buffalo, is to be promoted to the position of assistant general freight agent. Mr. Burgard is now in the west.

A notice bidding members of the B. of L. F. to attend the Porter meeting at the rink tonight has been posted up in the Nickel Plate round house for the past two days and democratic firemen glower at it.

Freeman Furthmiller had to quit work in the Pittsburg planing mills last night. Some months ago he met with an injury, which refuses to properly heal, and since that time he is only able to work a day now and then.

It rained in Chicago yesterday and work on the new power station of the Pennsylvania company at Fourteenth street was suspended. F. M. Cherry, one of the Fort Wayne men engaged in the work, took advantage of the suspension to come home and visit his family.

Reuben Fronefield, a carpenter in the factory of Rhinesmith & Simonson's factory, is authority for the statement that the Maumee river bed abounds in valuable pearls. He says that he has $40 worth of them gathered recently from the Maumee and that men are now secretly hunting for pearls in the vicinity of Fort Wayne.

The air brake department of the Pittsburg shops is growing in importance rapidly and at the present rate will soon be an important feature of the works. This morning E. Zarbaugh, who came here recently from Wabash, was given a position in this department. Mr. Zurbaugh formerly resided here and was at one time a member of the common council.

Frank O'Brine, the popular Nickel Plate fireman, today leaves the Nickel Plate for a few days to take a position as conductor on a matrimonial train of his own. He unites his fortunes and good name with one of New Haven's fairest ladies and is off on a trip east. Frank says he is going to be conductor, engineer and general superintendent and if the matrimonial train gets too fast he will also act as brakeman. Everybody knows Frank and all wish him a world of happiness and success.

Miss Emilie Tyler, for some months day operator at the Wabash offices in this city, went to Peru this morning to take a position in the train dispatcher's office. The young lady now occupies the highest position a woman can attain in railway service under existing laws. Miss Tyler is said to be one of the best telegraph operators in the service of the Wabash company. Telegraphy seems to be hereditary in her family. She has two sisters in the business, one at West Lebanon, Ind., and the other at Danville junction, Ill., and both are expert operators.

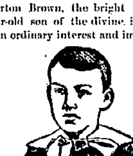
DEMOCRATS should remember that moving from one township to another at this time works a forfeiture to the right to vote. All men who have changed their residence, and in so doing have moved across a township line since September 9, are not entitled to vote at the coming election, and if a democrat contemplates a change of residence he should, if at all possible, postpone moving until after November 8. After October 9 a change from one precinct to another costs a man his vote, and it is urged upon all democrats that they bear this date in mind and govern themselves accordingly.

THE PREACHER'S BOY.

Cure of Catarrhal Deafness in the Case of the Little Son of Rev. D. M. Brown.

Few clergymen are better known in Indiana than the Rev. D. M. Brown, who has occupied pulpits at Indianapolis, Knightstown and other Indiana cities, and who recently accepted a call from the First Congregational church, at Dayton, Ohio, where he now resides at 349 West Monument avenue.

The following statement of Master Morton Brown, the bright little ten-year-old son of the divine, is of more than ordinary interest and importance:



MASTER MORTON BROWN.

"Four years ago," said he, "we lived at Knightstown, Indiana. I caught cold that winter and it kept getting worse until I had a bad case of catarrh. I had headache nearly every day. The least amount of exercise made me tired. I had a cold nearly all the time and my nose was often stopped up so it was impossible to breathe through it. My eyesight began to grow dim so I had to wear spectacles. The very worst symptom in my case, though, was deafness. My hearing kept growing worse until we were all afraid I should become entirely deaf.

"Nothing that was done for me helped my case any until I went to the Stackhouse Medical Institute. I had only taken treatment there a little while until I began to get well. Now the headaches have stopped; I have no more dizzy spells; I feel ever so much stronger; eyesight is good and I have recovered my hearing. Everybody that is bothered with catarrh ought to go to the specialists of the Stackhouse Medical Institute and be cured."

Master Brown recovered his hearing. Catarrhal deafness can always be cured.

Treatment through correspondence by the system perfected by this institution has proven as effective in its results as in cases where the treatment is personally administered. Our special symptom blank by means of which we are enabled to correctly diagnosis even the most complicated case, is mailed to all who write for it.

A Cholera Scare.

A reported outbreak of cholera at Helmetta, N. J., created much excitement in that vicinity. Investigation showed that the disease was not cholera, but a violent dysentery, which is almost as severe and dangerous as cholera. Mr. Walter Willard, a prominent merchant of Jamesburg, two miles from Helmetta, says Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhœa Remedy has given great satisfaction in the most severe cases of dysentery. It is certainly one of the best things ever made." For sale by druggists.

Free Trade for Rich Men.

There is one bill that the last house passed that we challenge the Republican papers to publish, and that is the bill to compel the rich Americans, like Chauncey Depew, who visit Europe every year, to pay tariff on the clothes they bring back with them from the "pauper tailors" of Europe. Before the McKinley bill became a law an American on returning from Europe was allowed to bring foreign made clothes to the amount of $50. But the McKinley bill changed this and now clothes to the amount of $500 are allowed to come in free of duty. In the last session the tailors of the country united, and upon their petition a bill introduced by Congressman Cooper, of Indiana, passed the house, compelling these American dudes to pay tariff on the clothes they bring back every year from Europe. But it did not pass the Republican senate. Last year over $5,000,000 worth of clothes were thus imported free by rich Americans who spend their summers in Europe. The Democrats are ready to prove that all the clothes that Chauncey Depew wears are made by an English tailor in London, and he pays not a cent of taxes on the same to bring them to this country. That is the way the McKinley bill protects the workingman—free trade in clothes for the millionaire and protection on clothes for the workingman.

Beauty . . .

And . . .
Mme. M. Yale's

La Freckla

Mme. M. Yale, the celebrated beauty and complexion specialist, said in one of her famous lectures on "Beauty and the Complexion": Young ladies, remember a pretty face will win for you love, and love will win for you a husband. Married ladies, remember with the decline of youth and beauty your husband's love will grow cold. Youth and beauty is woman's power. Be on your guard against wrinkles, old age and ugliness; they have broken up many happy homes.

FRECKLES.

LA FRECKLA is the name of Madame Yale's famous discovery. It is the only Freckle cure in existence—3 days is sufficient in most cases to effect a cure, and one week where the case is of long standing. There are no Freckles on record that La Freckla will not cure—guaranteed in every instance. For Tan and Sunburn it is instantaneous, removing it instantly upon the first application. The most perfect complexion in the world was obtained by the use of La Freckla—$1 per bottle. Sold at all Druggists', shipped from Chicago in plain wrappers. Mme. Yale's Famous Book, "Beauty and the Complexion," will be sent free to any address upon receipt of 6 cents postage. Ladies may consult Mme. Yale free of charge by mail or at the Temple of Beauty in person. All correspondence strictly confidential.

Send for Price List of Mme. M. Yale's Remedies for removing Wrinkles, Developing the Bust, turning gray hair back to its original color and on all matters pertaining to Beauty. Mme. Yale is the only recognized Beauty Scientist. She can make an old face young again and all women beautiful.

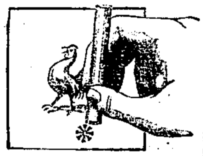
INSTRUCTIONS TO VOTERS:

If you want to vote the straight democratic ticket, here is the way to stamp it:



Stamp in the square with the Rooster and NOWHERE ELSE.

See that the ink where you stamped is dry before you fold your ticket.

Read these official instructions:

1

If the voter wishes any information as to the manner of voting he may ask the poll clerks.

2

There are two ballot boxes and two ballots to be voted One ballot-box is painted red and is for the state ballot, which ballot is on red paper; the other ballot-box is painted white and is for the county ticket, which ticket is on white paper.

3

The voter enters the room, tells the poll clerks his name, the clerks give him two ballots to be voted and a stamp [the stamp is a little stick with a rubber on the end of it]: the voter goes alone into one of the booths with the two ballots and the stamp; in the booth on a little shelf he will find an ink pad (this is a cloth saturated with ink): the voter touches the ink pad with the stamp and then stamps his ballot. Let the ballots dry before folding.

4

After stamping his ballots and the ink has become dry, the voter then folds each ballot separately before leaving the booth; he must fold them so that no one can see how he has voted, and so that the initials or first letters of the poll clerks' names can be seen on the backs of the ballots; he then goes and gives the stamp back to the clerks, and hands the two ballots to the inspector; then he leaves the room.

5

After the voter comes out of the booth into the room he must be careful not to let any one see the inside of his ballots; if he exposes his ballot so that it can be known how he votes, his ballot will be rejected.

6

If the voter cannot read English, or is blind, or is physically unable to stamp his ballots, he has a right to call on the poll clerks to stamp his ballots for him; this must be done in his presence and in the presence of both poll clerks.

7

The voter must vote the ballots given him by the poll clerks, and none other.

8

The voter must not put any mark or sign on his ballots; if he does his vote will not be counted.

If by accident he blots his ballot in stamping it, or makes a mistake, let him return the ballot, folded, to the poll clerks and get another.

If you want to vote a STRAIGHT DEMOCRATIC TICKET, stamp within the BIG SQUARE containing the rooster, at the top of the ticket. If you stamp within the big square you must not stamp anywhere else on the ticket or you will lose your vote.

You must not mark on the ballot with anything but the stamp. You must not stamp except on the squares. If you accidently stamp off a square return your ballot to the poll clerks and get a new one.

You must fold your ballot before coming out of the booth, so that the face will not show and the initials of the poll clerks on the back will show.

If you want to vote a STRAIGHT DEMOCRATIC TICKET, stamp the big square containing the rooster at the top of the ticket.

If you do not want to vote for all the candidates on any one ticket, but some on one and some on another, then you MUST NOT stamp the large square at the head of the ticket, but stamp the small square opposite each candidate you want to vote for.

Henry C. DeMille's new drama, "The Lost Paradise," which comes to the Temple next Saturday, is one of the few melodramas that are intensely realistic and appreciative of the theme on which they are penned. The theme in this case is the constantly recurring struggle between capital and labor, force being lent to it by the action being laid in a manufactory of steel and iron, thus recalling vividly the recent events at the Homestead works. The employes demand an increased percentage in their wages, which is resisted by Andrew Knowlton, the owner of the works, and his new partner, Ralph Standish, the bethrothed of, Margaret Knowlton, Andrew Knowlton's daughter, the heroine. Reuben Warner, the superintendent, who is in love with Margaret, makes an ineffectual attempt to adjust the difficulty, and finding his efforts unavailing, casts his lot with his fellow workmen. The last act, the third, naturally straightens matters out and brings to play a happy conclusion.

FIVE-FIFTEEN-FIFTY-EIGHT is A1 time. There is no disputing that. The City of Paris pushed her bow right through all previous records of crack liners on this phenomenal trip. Uncle Sam is smiling broadly at thought of the beautiful service that the splendid ship would do for him in time of war. And, by the way, the act which allowed of the adoption of the City of Paris requires that the Cramps shall build two more steamships equal to her in speed to belong to the same fleet. They can do it.

THE Salvation Army is to have a cavalry troop for each State to ride rough shod over Satan in the country districts and small towns which cannot support a regular force of soldiers or a barracks. This idea of cavalry in the Salvation Army originated in California, where it is said to be very successful in the country districts. Commander Ballington Booth has decided to adopt it in other States, and make it a regular feature of the salvation work.

ANY Government which interferes with the amusement of a people may be said to be tyrannical. Men have been killed on the base-ball field in this country, but the suppression of the game has never been thought of. The French Chamber of Deputies, in considering bills declaring the usually harmless duels of that country a crime, is treading on dangerous ground.

ONE reason for the general contempt in which the mosquito is held may be his mongrel pedigree. Possibly there is no nationality in America whose blood does not flow in his veins.

On account of illness, it will be impossible for the Hon. Emil Rothe to address the democracy this evening, and the parade for the occasion is declared off.

THE FLOWER SHOW.

It Promises to be the Gala Event of the Autumn.

Chrysanthemums of Every Shade and Variety to be on Exhibition.

Preparations for the great chrysanthemum show to be given the 10, 11 and 12 of this month in the Y. M. C. A. hall are going forward famously and the thoroughness of preparations will equal those of any social event which has taken place for some time. This flower is getting itself boomed in the boudior of beauty, in the circles of swelldom and among all cultured people who love flowers and no one should fail to show their appreciation of it. In many of the larger cities these chrysanthemum shows are made the gala event of the Autumn and such they should be made in Fort Wayne, where this flower is so extensively cultivated. Yesterday, in taking a trip through some of the hot-houses of the city, a glimpse was had of the magnificent array of chrysanthemums as well as roses, carnations, and other flowers, which will be on exhibition next week. It fairly took ones breath away to go from the dreary weather outside into the midst of that brilliant and beautiful display of color against the dark green background of leaves. The big, soft, feathery balls of pure white, cream, pink, from a deep salmon to the faintest rosy tinge, golden yellow, deep red, and red and yellow, all seemed to be waiting to be admired. These and many more can be seen next Thursday, Friday and Saturday, at the Y. M. C. A. hall. The display will be a revelation and help one to understand how it is that the blooming of the chrysanthemum is made the festal month in the land of the Mikado.

The hall will be decorated with wild smilax, Spanish moss, palms and plants from the southern states and, lighted with electricity and Japanese lanterns will indeed present a fairy scene. The first of the three days of the exhibition will be devoted to mantel decorations and the third to the arrangement of table decorations, and here these flowers will look their prettiest. Design work will be the special feature of the second day. At no time will there be any entertainment or address, but music by the different orchestras in the city will be furnished each evening. The band boys of the feeble minded asylum will play the first night. Other arrangements will be spoken of later.

Hon. W. H. Trammell, G. H. Kenner and ex-Auditor Ezra T. Lee, of Huntington, were in the city today.
